2) Department of Intergovernmental Affairs

Books were loaned from Quebec on the occasion of a festival aimed at the promotion of modern languages in the United States. These books are part of a collection of literature from Quebec available at this office.

In February, a group of approximately twenty students from a high school in Connecticut paid us a visit. The group was planning a visit to the province of Quebec sometime in the spring. They were shown a film on Quebec and given a kit of Quebec literature.

The Information Service has helped arrange an exchange of approximately twenty students between Cold Spring Harbor High School and a college in Jonquiére, Quebec.

A visit to Montreal by a group of forty students from a New Canaan, Connecticut high school was planified through our services.

We were in a position to secure information for several departments of our Government in Quebec, namely our Departments of Intergovernmental Affairs, Cultural Affairs and Department of Transportation. We obtained for our Department of Cultural Affairs information to help in the programming of their activities in the United States. In connection with the above, several hours were spent in research at the New York Public Library and the United Nations headquarters. This also entailed correspondence with United States Governments at the state and city levels.

Requests for information are received at the rate of approximately 150 per month. The following subjects are covered:

- . Culture and education in general - mainly language
- . Immigration - especially requests from young teachers desirous of settling in Quebec
- . Taxation in Quebec - general information as well as requests for various income tax forms
- . Investment in the province of Quebec - namely land and other real estate
- . Directories of manufacturers, lists of bankers, brokers, lawyers, etc...

During the past six months, 24 numbers of reviews of the American Press were prepared for the benefit of our headquarters in Quebec and the staff of this office.

Students and professionals from the education and business fields continue to consult our library which acquired nineteen new books of Quebec literature during this period. Our initiative to loan a book now and then continues to prove satisfactory.

3) Department of Industry & Commerce

Industrial Development

During the period under review our efforts continued following the Fantus Program and contacts were made in Studies 3 and 4 on the Recording & Measuring Instruments Industry and the Disposable Hospital Surgical Supplies. Contact was made with 478 corporations in the territories covered by the New York office. These contacts were either by letter, telephone or personal interview.

Seventeen active dossiers were dealt with in the first quarter and 18 in the second - who all were interested in some form of industrial activity in the Province of Quebec, either direct manufacturing, joint venture or having the US product manufactured in Canada under license.

Commercial Market Development

During the period several trade shows were covered by our personnel, including the Furniture Market in Toronto, Menswear Show in Dallas, the NAMSBS Show in New York, Montreal-Mode Fashion Press Weekend in Montreal, as well as the Canada Leather Show in that City.

Economic Development

US banks and New York Agencies of Canadian banks were frequently contacted and the highlight in this field was the visit by the Honourable Raymond Garneau, Finance Minister, for the successful launching of the $150,000,000 issue for the James Bay Development Corporation.

4) Department of Tourism, Fish & Game

During the period extending from January 1st to June 30th, the Tourist Information Office received a total of 23,939 requests for travel information on the Province of Quebec. They were broken down as follows:

Visitors:	8,029
Telephones:	9,166
Inquiries by mail:	6,744

The Tourist Information Office being responsible for film distribution filled 1,217 requests thereby documenting some 60,850 persons on our facilities.

Our main objective in the aforementioned period were to promote tourism via specific vehicles such as articles in a great number of newspapers, trade publications and the information media in general.

In order to achieve this, a fair quantity of journalists were guests of the Province thus familiarizing them with our facilities. Several seminars were also conducted during the spring at which time specific holiday destinations were highlighted.

With the same objective in mind, many mass transporters or tour operators were motivated on selling Quebec as a destination.

During the period covered by this report, the Tourist Counsellor attended several receptions given by the travel trade and has also participated in many promotional ventures.

identify common problems and find solutions. This was a follow-up to last year's conference which was held in Brudenell, P.E.I.

3) Department of Industry & Commerce

As of April 1st, 1974, concentrated efforts have been directed towards industrial and commercial promotions. Since this is such a short period of time, concrete results have not as yet been achieved.

Through the Fantus promotion program and our contacts with banks, we have, however, been able to identify some industries which have shown interest in Quebec.

In January 1974, this office assisted in the promotion of the following Quebec manufacturers to exhibit in the New England Trailer and Camping Show: Tentes Mobiles of Thetford Mines, PMC Corporation of St-Germain, Playcat Industries of Drummondville, Lionel Products Corporation, Lennoxville and Val-Bar of Drummondville.

In April of this year, 6 companies participated in the New England Industrial Show.

This office assisted in the promotion of Quebec manufacturers marketing their goods on the New England market. Assistance was also rendered to a number of US Corporations desirous of marketing their products in Quebec.

4) Department of Tourism, Fish and Game

During the first six months of the year, the Tourist Counsellor divided his time amongst New England, Washington, D.C. and the southeastern part of the U.S. In the Florida and Atlanta areas, he has been trying to stimulate the tourist market for Quebec during the ski and Carnival season by working in cooperation with the various offices of the Canadian Government Office of Tourism, the airlines, the travel agencies and wholesalers.

In Washington, where many headquarters of large companies and/or associations are located, he has been soliciting to have them hold their conventions in Quebec. To date, he has received a favourable response from approximately 20 companies.

In New England, he has been working closely with the Boston office of the Canadian Government Office of Tourism and several wholesalers to encourage more people to go to and stay longer in Quebec. This is accomplished partly through free publicity and partly through assisting agencies to create new tours to La Belle Province.

In closing, the tourist section of the Boston office has handled some 700 requests for information during the past six months.

2) Department of Intergovernmental Affairs

The Quebec Government office in Chicago did its best to answer a wide range of questions from the general public on various aspects of Quebec society: immigration, tax laws, property ownership and sales, student exchanges and summer schools, the educational system, insurance, and cultural exchanges, up to and including the regulations governing marriage between a Quebecker and an American citizen. Whenever possible, we obtained the information requested, in cases where limitations of staff and time made this impossible, we directed the individual to the appropriate agencies or government departments.

3) Department of Industry & Commerce

The staff of the Quebec Government Office in Chicago devoted the principal part of their energies during the first six months of 1974 to organizing and launching a coordinated industrial promotion offensive built around the Fantus project. This project involves a series of studies analyzing specific advantages which Quebec offers to manufacturers of certain products, and the subsequent intensive solicitation of companies in these sectors. In addition to doing research on targeted companies, the office distributed 186 studies accompanied by letters offering further assistance, sent personalized letters to some 975 prospects, and made some 200 follow-up contacts by telephone.

In addition to this major effort, the office also worked actively with 11 companies which are seriously considering establishing manufacturing plants in Quebec. The Economic Counsellor made his first trip to Ohio, which was recently added to the territory covered by the Chicago office. A total of 20 presentations were made to companies in the Midwest which had never previously been contacted. The office also maintained contact with some 250 important companies which are long-range prospects, through mailings of the Financial Times. The office also helped organized a luncheon attended by 40 members of the Chicago Financial Community, at which the Director of Economic Expansion of the Montreal Urban Community made a slide presentation on Montreal.

The Commercial Counsellor coordinated the participation of 9 Quebec furniture manufacturers in the NEOCON show, the largest and most influential show of its kind in the world. By negotiating the entrée of Quebec firms into this show for the first time, the Commercial Counsellor enabled them to attract hundreds of top industry professionals (architects, designers, specifiers) to their displays. The office also helped organize a Shoe Fair Mission and a Women's Wear Mission which brought a total of 9 Quebec manufacturers to Chicago where they made valuable contacts and wrote substantial orders. The office also expanded its activities in the area of licensing arrangements, working with 5 Quebec firms of which 3 concluded manufacturing agreements which should contribute important know-how to the Province.

We also are currently looking for Quebec partners for five US companies which have expressed interest in some form of association. The Commercial Counsellor is working with a Chicago retailer who is planning a major in-store promotion of Quebec women's clothing for fall 1974, and has begun discussions with three other Midwest stores which are interested in organizing promotions. We arranged trips to Quebec for buyers from 9 stores in 4 states. The office provided assistance to 10 Quebec manufacturers seeking to penetrate the Midwest market, as well as to 3 Quebec companies looking for sources of supply in the US and 5 American firms seeking sources of supply in Canada.

4) Department of Tourism, Fish & Game

The Tourist Counsellor organized tours of the Province of Quebec for three Chicago area travel writers, and is in the process of arranging similar trips for 12 other journalists in the field of leisure and sports publications. He participated in Air Canada's presentation of their summer packages to some 500 travel agents, and is working closely with a tour wholesaler to plan group packages for the coming season. As the result of a mailing made by the office, 5 trade organizations have shown definite interest in holding future conventions in Quebec, and we have helped arrange a trip to Quebec for the director of one group. A tour for members of the Chicago Society of Association Executives is in the planning stage. Spring and Summer Newsletters mailed to some 600 travel agents in the Midwest have kept them informed about special events and various vacation opportunities in Quebec. The office has also handled some 500 requests for travel information from persons interested in visiting the Province.

Promotion of capital investment in Quebec by means of industrial implantations remains our principal activity. During the first six months of 74 we have opened eleven new files on companies that have shown a certain interest in setting up manufacturing operations in the Province. We have contacted forty four firms with whom we had been in touch previously concerning their plans of possible expansion towards Quebec.

However, during the last semester, business has been relatively slow. In our opinion, this was due mainly to the rising rates of interest and the scarcity of supply of raw material, particularly petro-chemicals commodities.

B/ Trade Promotion

Under the auspices of our Department of Industry & Commerce, we have taken part in two trade shows held in Dallas, Texas.

- . The Menswear Retailers Association Exhibition where 14 Quebec manufacturers showed their merchandise
- . The Supermarket Institute Annual Conference and Exhibition, where seven manufacturers had various exhibits.

Earlier in the year, a group of five manufacturers from Quebec attended the National Association of Home Builders Annual meeting and Exhibition held in Houston, for a market study on the availability of new products as well as tools, machinery and equipment.

4) Department of Tourism, Fish & Game

This sector of our activities is growing steadily, the number of inquiries increasing constantly, coming mainly from groups of organization who are holding their annual conventions and meeting in Montreal and Quebec City.

A number of requests for road maps, lists of hotels and restaurants, camping grounds, etc... were received from individuals planning to spend their vacation in the Province. Similar requests as well as inquiries on rules and regulations for fishing and hunting were received from various sportsmen and groups. With the cooperation of our Department of Tourism, most of these inquiries were answered appropriately.

Occasionally we receive inquiries and requests for reservation of accommodations for the forthcoming 1976 Olympics. Some of these came from various travel agencies. Most of these requests were referred to the Organizing Committee of the 1976 Olympic Games in Montreal.
